

Behaviour Policy and Code of Practice

Policy Statement

At Little Sutton Primary School we aim to achieve and sustain outstanding behaviour and discipline in order to make the children's experiences of school life enjoyable, safe, secure and rewarding. This will maximise teaching and learning opportunities – raising the quality of education for all.

All members of staff are concerned with the behaviour of all children and will lead by example, communicating good behaviour and expectations both directly and indirectly by means of effective discipline. At the heart of this policy and code of practice is the belief that all intervention is based on a fundamental respect for each individual. The staff at Little Sutton recognise the importance of building helpful relationships with our pupils and between each other. Outstanding behaviour is most often associated with good relationships and mutual respect.

The children and the school community have jointly developed our core values, Learn, Strive and Succeed (Appendix 1: Mission Statement). These along with the British values, underpin our positive ethos in school (Appendix 2: British values). Pupils are to be encouraged to be responsible for their own behaviour and actions. Self-discipline is at the heart of effective learning. They will be encouraged to share the responsibility for the behaviour of their child. We appreciate the importance of their support when difficulties concerning behaviour arise.

We believe that the use of praise and encouragement is a more effective means of communicating good behaviour expectations than negative comments. By fostering positive relationships between children and staff the children will feel valued both as individuals and as part of the school community, thus promoting self-esteem, self-confidence and self-respect on a personal level and co-operation, consideration, courtesy and respect for others on a social level. Through this, we hope the children will develop pride in themselves and in their school, together with a sense of belonging. A list of rewards and sanctions are displayed in every classroom.

We are committed to providing the children with a well structured and ordered school experience and believe that effective communication between all staff on matters of behaviour and discipline is essential in order to achieve this. In addition, the policy and practice will be reviewed regularly in phase, leadership and whole staff meetings.

Equal opportunity and maximum inclusion

1. An individual's difficulties and needs can vary over time and in different settings. Thus individuals should avoid "labelling" children and young people.
2. All children should have maximum access to the mainstream curriculum and children should be educated, as far as possible, with their mainstream peer group.
3. Policy, planning and action in the field of behaviour management should be anti-discriminatory and conform to equal opportunity policy.

CODE OF PRACTICE

Roles and responsibilities.

As part of the educational process, all adults in the school community have a responsibility to teach children appropriate behaviour. All staff are responsible for their children's pastoral care and behaviour, but they do this in conjunction with the Head Teacher, Deputy and Inclusion Manager. This responsibility is also shared with teaching assistants and lunchtime supervisors. When staff have a concern about behaviour they are encouraged to share this concern with the Inclusion Manager and Phase Leader. The Inclusion Manager will seek advice/support and, where appropriate, liaise with the Head Teacher, parents and outside agencies. Where appropriately behavioural targets will be set and recorded on an Individual Target Plan (ITP). A record of serious incidents is kept by the Head Teacher to record serious and persistent incidents of misconduct.

School Rules

The school rules, which were devised by the School Council in consultation with classes, are displayed prominently in every classroom, the halls, multimedia area and main corridor. (Appendix 3: Little Sutton Rules).

Classroom

Effective discipline is achieved primarily through the provision of a well planned and stimulating curriculum delivered in an organised, well- resourced and managed environment. School rules (see above) are reinforced and children are encouraged to respect the space, work and property of their peers to be considerate of their feelings and opinions.

Basic rules of safety must also be introduced and enforced:

Children must not be left unsupervised at any time.

The use of technology tools and electrical equipment by children must be supervised by an adult.

The movement around school during lesson time must be kept to a minimum.

Children are not permitted to run in the corridors or classrooms.

We believe that establishing teacher expectations at the start of the year, and issuing reminders through the year, is time well spent. The teacher should make explicit the procedures, routines and expectations for:

- Using the locker areas
- Entering/ leaving the classroom
- Registration
- Movement around the school and classroom
- Using/ sharing resources
- Going to the toilet (Appendix 4: Guidelines for using the toilet)
- Wet play/ lunchtimes
- Tidying up etc

Safety of pupils/ pupils leaving school without permission

Children absconding from the school site will be dealt with in the light of the circumstances and their age. If a child absconds, the class teacher's duty is the care of the remaining children. The first course of action should be to notify the office and Head Teacher, who will inform parents and attempt to follow and retrieve the child. If the whereabouts of the child cannot be determined within a reasonable length of time then the local police should be informed. (Please refer to Safe Handling Policy.)

As a safety precaution ALL staff should challenge ALL adults on site if they are unknown. (Please refer to Safety Guidelines)

Playground

To ensure the safety and welfare of the children the teachers on duty should arrive promptly at the beginning of playtime and at 8.45 a.m. The teacher on duty will bring out the radio and the teaching assistant will be responsible for bringing basic first aid equipment. Children are not allowed back into the building during break times unless they have asked the permission of the teacher on duty or lunchtime supervisor.

If a child receives a minor injury during playtime this will be dealt with by the TA on duty. For more serious incidents the child can be escorted by the TA to receive first aid. If a child cannot be moved or a staff member is on their own when a serious injury occurs on the playground then a first aider is requested using the radio (refer to separate written guidelines for first aid procedures).

When the weather has been consistently dry the teacher on duty, or Lunchtime Co-ordinator, decides if the children are allowed on the grass for the break times. Playground rules are displayed prominently on each playground. (Appendix 5: Playground Rules)

Wet Playtimes

The decision as to whether or not the children may play outside is made by a senior member of staff and this is shared with class teachers via the radio.

During wet breaks Y1 & Y2 go to the infant hall, Y3 go to Johnson Hall (when available) and all other children remain in their classrooms supervised by a member of staff. Equipment will be made available.

Lunchtime Supervision

The Lunchtime Co-ordinator decides if the weather is suitable for a “wet” or “dry” break and if the children are allowed on the grass. Children attending lunchtime clubs or activities report to the supervisor responsible for letting the children in. The office must provide the lunch time staff with a copy of the register of children attending clubs.

All supervisors wear medical bags and they deal with minor incidents. More serious injuries are referred to the Key Stage Supervisors who in turn will inform the Lunchtime Co-ordinator.

Incidents are dealt with by the Key Stage Supervisors /Lunchtime Co-ordinator, or passed on to a senior member of staff depending upon the severity of the incident.

Little Sutton has Golden Lunchtime Rules which are promoted. There is an award for the best class in each Key Stage for keeping the Golden Rules each week. Four children, who have tried hard to keep to the rules, are invited to a special Golden Table on Thursdays. (Appendix 6: Lunchtime rules).

After School Clubs

Written permission must be obtained from parents/ guardians of children who wish to attend after school clubs. The teacher in charge of the club should keep a weekly record of attendance. Teachers must ensure that children are collected by their parents after the club, unless written information has been received beforehand.

Educational visits

Little Sutton children are often complimented on their behaviour when they are out on educational visits.

Once the destination and details of the visit have been researched by the class teacher, parents and pupils need to be informed and written permission obtained. It is essential that the teacher in charge completes the necessary risk assessment documentation. The risk assessment should include behavioural issues that may arise. Children and all accompanying adults must be absolutely clear about safety regulations and the code of conduct expected – need for courtesy and respect for people, property and the environment.

Parents/helpers who have not undergone a DRB check will not be left unsupervised with children (Refer to Educational Visits Policy).

Rewards and Sanctions

We believe in a positive approach where the emphasis is on rewarding good behaviour. Once a reward is given it must not be taken back. Every classroom displays the Little Sutton Praise Rocket, which outlines the rewards that the children can strive for (Appendix 7: Rewards for good behaviour).

It is equally important to discourage and punish unacceptable behaviour in school. These will vary according to the situation and age of the child. (Appendix 8: Sanctions for poor behaviour and refer to the Care for Handling/De-escalation Policy).

Promoting British values at Little Sutton

The DfE have reinforced the need “to create and enforce a clear and rigorous expectation on all schools to promote the fundamental British values of democracy, the rule of law, individual liberty and mutual respect and tolerance of those with different faiths and beliefs.” At Little Sutton Primary these values are reinforced regularly and in the following ways:

Democracy:

Democracy is well embedded within the school. Pupils have the opportunity to have their voices heard through our Pupil Council and Lead Learners. The elections of House Captains, are based solely on pupil votes. Our school behaviour policy involves rewards which the pupils vote on as a class group. Each year the children decide upon their class rules and the rights associated with these. All the children contribute to the drawing up of the rules. We have a student council which meets regularly to discuss issues raised from classes. The council is genuinely able to effect change within the school. Children have an annual questionnaire where they are able to put forward their views about the school.

The Rule of Law:

The importance of laws, whether they be those that govern the class, the school, or the country, are consistently reinforced at Little Sutton. Pupils are taught from an early age the rules of the school. There are our class rules, playground rules and e-safety procedures. Pupils are taught the value and reasons behind rules and laws, that they govern and protect us, the responsibilities that this involves and the consequences when laws are broken. Visits from authorities such as the Police; Fire Service, Bike ability, Computer explorers etc. are regular parts of our calendar and help reinforce this message.

Individual Liberty:

At Little Sutton Primary, pupils are actively encouraged to make choices, knowing that they are in a safe and supportive environment. As a school we educate and provide boundaries for young pupils to make informed choices, through a safe environment and an empowering education. Pupils are encouraged to know, understand and exercise their rights and personal freedoms and advised how to exercise these safely, for example through our e-safety and PSHE lessons. Whether it be through choice of challenge, of how they record, of participation in our numerous extra-curricular clubs and opportunities, pupils are given the freedom to make choices.

Mutual Respect:

Mutual respect is at the heart of our values. Children learn that their behaviours have an effect on their own rights and those of others. All members of the school community treat each other with respect.

Tolerance of those of Different Faiths and Beliefs:

Little Sutton Primary is a diverse school. We actively promote diversity through our celebrations of different faiths and cultures. Religious Education lessons and PSHE lessons reinforce messages of tolerance and respect for others. Members of different faiths and religions are encouraged to share their knowledge to enhance learning within classes and the school. The children visit places of worship that are important to different faiths.
